THIRD INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON WOMEN'S SAFETY: BUILDING INCLUSIVE CITIES

NEW DELHI, INDIA | NOVEMBER 22 - 24, 2010

Women in Cities International (Montreal, Canada) is co-organizing with Jagori (Delhi, India) the Third International Conference on Women's Safety: Building Inclusive Cities. The conference will take place from November 22 – 24, 2010 in New Delhi.

This event will bring together international actors in the field of women's safety for exchange and debate on key topics in current practice. A variety of sessions, including keynote presentations, skills-building workshops, panel presentations, and collective visioning exercises will maximize opportunities for knowledge-sharing, capacity-building and networking.

The Third International Conference on Women's Safety is an important opportunity for representatives from women's and community organizations, municipal and national governments, UN agencies, grassroots women, researchers, experts, and academics to work together and build upon the global movement towards the creation of safer and more gender-inclusive cities and communities. UN-Habitat, the Huairou Commission, UNIFEM and Red Mujer y Habitat de America Latina are supporting partners for this conference.
